3.1 Business update

Acquisition of Home Care NSW

On 28 August 2015, Australian Unity announced the execution of an agreement with the New South Wales Government to transfer the Home Care Service of New South Wales (“Home Care NSW”) as a discrete entity to become part of the Australian Unity Group.

Home Care NSW provides in-home care services to approximately 50,000 clients across New South Wales and has approximately 4,000 employees. Australian Unity has provided home care services for more than ten years and has services in Victoria, New South Wales and Queensland. The transfer will result in Home Care NSW becoming one of the largest areas of operation within the Australian Unity Group and, in turn, Australian Unity will be one of the largest home care providers nationally.

Under the transfer agreement, Home Care NSW’s staff will transfer to Australian Unity with their existing employment terms and conditions set for two years for permanent staff and six months for casual staff. Australian Unity will buy Home Care NSW for $114 million, subject to adjustments. The transaction will be funded by cash and debt. The transfer is expected to be finalised in early 2016.

Acquisition rationale and benefits to the Australian Unity Group

Alignment to Australian Unity’s social purpose	The Australian Unity Group operates with a strong social purpose, centred on providing solutions to the demographic challenges facing Australia from the ageing population and rise of chronic disease.
Alignment to Australian Unity’s strategic goals	To create Australia’s leading home care business—one that offers a true continuum of client-directed care.
Complementary to existing portfolio	Australian Unity Group operates a portfolio of wellbeing-related businesses, including aged care, retirement living, home care, health insurance, financial advice, estate and administration services, banking and investment products.
Scale opportunity	Meaningful scale in home care services and creates a platform for further growth.
Value creation	Home Care NSW clients often transfer to other service providers when their needs change as their current provider is not always able to provide higher levels of care. One of the key benefits Australian Unity brings to clients of Home Care NSW is Australian Unity Group’s extensive range of services.

Project Albert

Australian Unity has announced plans to repurpose its head office and adjacent real estate assets in Albert Road, South Melbourne, Victoria into an aged care, retirement living and community wellbeing precinct. Australian Unity is in negotiations to enter into a lease for its new head office, to be situated in the Melbourne CBD. This project is aimed at delivering a solution for the housing of its central Melbourne workforce from 2018 onwards.

3.2 Use of proceeds of the Offer

The proceeds of the Offer will be used for refinancing the Australian Unity Notes issued in 2011 (“2011 Notes”), partly financing the purchase of Home Care NSW and for general corporate purposes.

3.3 Effect of the Offer on Australian Unity

Assuming the Offer raises $200 million, there will be no material impact on the net assets of Australian Unity as the net cash raised (after transaction costs of $4.9 million) from the issue of the Bonds will be held in cash or used to repay existing debt. However, it is expected that the Covenant Gearing Ratio will increase as a result of the settlement of Home Care NSW (estimated to be early 2016). Assuming that $100 million of net additional borrowings has been undertaken to fund the acquisition and that the acquisition had been completed on 30 June 2015, and that the acquisition results in no change to the net assets of Australian Unity, then the Covenant Gearing Ratio would increase to 39.9 percent from 31.5 percent.

3.4 Key financial ratios

Sources of financial information

This section describes some of the key financial indicators that will help you assess the financial position and strength of Australian Unity. In addition to these key financial indicators, you should also consider Australian Unity's financial statements available from Australian Unity's 2015 Annual Report.

You must refer to section 3.8.2 of the Base Prospectus which describes the Key Financial Ratios.

The tables below set out:

- the prescribed Key Financial Ratios (Gearing Ratio, Interest Cover Ratio and Working Capital Ratio) which are calculated on the basis prescribed by the Corporations Act and Corporations Regulation 6D.2.06;
- the Covenant Gearing Ratio, which is the gearing ratio typically used by the business and for certain of Australian Unity's credit facilities and, in particular, which is a provision of the Base Terms;
- the AU Interest Cover Ratio which is the interest cover ratio typically used by the business and for certain of Australian Unity's credit facilities; and
- the ADI Tier 1 Capital Ratio.

The ratios are based on financial information for the financial years ended 30 June 2013, 30 June 2014 and 30 June 2015 and on the basis of applicable accounting standards in force as at those dates. For ongoing reporting of these ratios the amount of debt included in the Covenant Gearing Ratio will continue to be calculated by reference to the Australian Accounting Standards in place as at the date of the Base Prospectus, unless Australian Unity decides to determine the amount of debt in accordance with current applicable accounting standards and notifies the Holders of that decision. As a result, a change in accounting standards may cause movements in the prescribed Gearing Ratio but will not change the calculation of the Covenant Gearing Ratio (unless Australian Unity decides to determine the amount of the debt in accordance with current applicable accounting standards).

Prescribed Key Financial Ratios

Financial ratio	FY13	FY14	FY15
Gearing Ratio (prescribed)	698.6%	708.8%	697.9%
Working Capital Ratio (prescribed)	1.61x	1.58x	1.32x
Interest Cover Ratio (prescribed)*	(5.76)x	(9.24)x	(8.26)x

* In the case of Australian Unity, a negative Interest Cover Ratio indicates that interest income exceeds interest expense.

Important note: the Gearing Ratio, Working Capital Ratio and Interest Cover Ratio set out above are calculated on the prescribed basis. The intended purpose of this requirement is to give an indication of the capacity of an issuer to meet its obligations to Holders under the Bonds.

Section three Offer specific information you should consider (continued)

However, Australian Unity does not consider the prescribed Gearing Ratio and Interest Cover Ratio to be a reliable measure of the capacity of Australian Unity to meet its obligations to Holders under the Bonds. Australian Unity uses other financial ratios in its business, described below, and reports to investors on the basis of those ratios.

Refer to Section 3.8.2 of the Base Prospectus under the heading “Corporations Act Prescribed Ratios” for further information.

Other Relevant Financial Ratios

Financial ratio	FY13	FY14	FY15
Covenant Gearing Ratio	34.9%	37.3%	31.5%
AU Interest Cover Ratio	3.94x	4.13x	4.57x
ADI Tier 1 Capital Ratio	16.0%	14.3%	14.2%

Impact of the ADI and Benefit Funds on prescribed Key Financial Ratios

The Australian Unity Group comprises a diversified group of businesses offering healthcare, investments, financial services and retirement solutions. It includes an ADI (Big Sky) and Benefit Funds. These are prudentially regulated businesses, and as a result their assets and revenues are not generally available to meet obligations of other parts of the Australian Unity Group.

ADIs tend to be highly leveraged with high gearing ratios, because they receive deposits, and will tend to have a low Working Capital Ratio.

ADIs and Benefit Funds earn significant interest income which normally creates negative interest cover ratios.

These outcomes are appropriate for an ADI and Benefit Funds, but distort those ratios when combined with the rest of the Australian Unity Group.

Relevance of prudential regulation

Prudential standards require Big Sky to maintain levels of capital which are designed to ensure that it can meet its liabilities from its own resources, and Big Sky’s obligations are not guaranteed by other members of the Australian Unity Group.

The Life Insurance Act restricts relevant revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities of the Benefit Funds being available to other members of the Australian Unity Group. However, the equity represented by a management fund held in the subsidiary that holds the Benefit Funds is potentially available to support other Australian Unity Group obligations, if regulatory capital requirements are met and consents obtained.

Adjustments to the prescribed Key Financial Ratios

As a result of the factors described above, Australian Unity adjusts the ratios that it uses in its business for Big Sky and the Benefit Funds.

Like many companies, Australian Unity also reflects only “interest bearing” liabilities in its gearing ratio, and makes other adjustments that were agreed when negotiating its banking facilities.

This methodology produces gearing ratios and interest cover ratios that are different to the prescribed Key Financial Ratios.

Australian Unity believes that the Covenant Gearing Ratio and the AU Interest Cover Ratio are better measures of Australian Unity’s ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds.

The Covenant Gearing Ratio

Gearing ratios focus on balance sheet positions, and measure a company’s ability to repay its debts. The Gearing Ratio is distorted by the inclusion within the Australian Unity Group of a highly leveraged entity such as an ADI.

The Covenant Gearing Ratio is the ratio referred to in the covenant in the Bonds that sets a gearing ratio limit. It is adjusted so that it indicates the level of debt ranking equally with or senior to the Bonds.

The Covenant Gearing Ratio excludes the financial position of Big Sky and the Benefit Funds, which are subject to prudential requirements, but includes the equity represented by the management fund held to support the Benefit Funds as the Benefit Funds already meet prudential requirements.

The Covenant Gearing Ratio also excludes non-interest bearing liabilities. In general, liabilities can be considered as either operational in nature or as borrowings. Non-interest bearing liabilities are excluded so that the Covenant Gearing Ratio measures the extent to which Australian Unity actively borrows in financial markets to fund its growth plans. Operational liabilities are not included in the calculation of the Gearing Ratio Debt so that it can derive a measure of the extent to which Australian Unity's businesses are funded by borrowings. The Covenant Gearing Ratio also includes Junior Ranking Obligations (which rank below the Bonds in a winding up) as Total Equity.

More information about these adjustments to the Covenant Gearing Ratio is set out in Section 3.8.2 of the Base Prospectus.

The AU Interest Cover Ratio

Interest cover ratios focus on cashflow and measure a company's capacity to service interest on its borrowings from its earnings, and as a result can be distorted by parts of the Australian Unity Group that earn interest income that is not readily available for that purpose.

The adjusted interest expense in the calculation of the AU Interest Cover Ratio excludes the net interest income of Big Sky and the Benefit Funds, and any interest from time to time on any loans by the management fund (described above) to the Benefit Funds.

The other businesses of Australian Unity earn interest on their cash and cash equivalent assets, and this interest income is also excluded. In the case of Australian Unity, the inclusion of net interest income from the ADI operations and Benefit Funds and other interest income results in a negative net interest expense because interest income will normally exceed interest expense. The exclusion of these interest income components provides a better insight into Australian Unity's interest obligations.

Refer to Section 3.8.2 of the Base Prospectus under the heading "AU Interest Cover Ratio" for further information.

Details of adjustments and calculations

The method for calculating these adjusted ratios and the adjustments compared to the prescribed formulae are set out in Section 3.8.2 of the Base Prospectus, and the relevant calculations are incorporated by reference into this Offer Specific Prospectus and available at Australian Unity's website www.australianunity.com.au/bonds.

3.5 Details of ranking and other debt on issue

Illustration of ranking upon winding up

	Type of instrument	Existing debt obligations and equity	Amount drawn as at 30 June 2015, adjusted for the amount to be raised under the Offer ($200m) ²
Higher ranking 	Secured debt	None (except for the 2011 Notes which will be secured on the cash proceeds of issue of the Bonds)	None
	Unsubordinated unsecured debt	Bank debt, Australian Unity Notes, the Bonds	$0 / $60m / $200m
	Subordinated, unsecured debt and hybrid instruments	None	None
Lower ranking 	Ordinary equity	Members' balances, Reserves, Retained profits	$502.8m

Australian Unity currently has no secured debt (except for the security interest granted in respect of the 2011 Notes – see Section 2.1.4 of the Base Prospectus) and no unsecured debt which ranks ahead of the Bonds, however, the Bonds place only limited restrictions on Australian Unity granting security for other indebtedness (see Section 2.1.4 of the Base Prospectus). Certain subsidiaries of Australian Unity have external borrowings. The debt of Australian Unity's subsidiaries is generally non-recourse to Australian Unity. Notwithstanding this, any default at a subsidiary level, including any ADI, may still have important consequences for Australian Unity, including the potential to reduce cash flows to Australian Unity, cause Australian Unity to extend resources supporting the subsidiary, cause a write-down in the value of Australian Unity's investments in its subsidiaries and affect Australian Unity's ability to obtain credit. These consequences may affect Australian Unity's ability to meet its obligations in respect of the Bonds.

Most of Australian Unity's claims on its Subsidiaries rank behind creditors of those Subsidiaries and the Bonds are not guaranteed by a Subsidiary so no Holder has a claim on any Subsidiary. The chart below sets out the maturity profile of Australian Unity and its Subsidiary external debt facilities including capital markets debt as at 30 June 2015. It does not include any adjustment for the issue of the Bonds or the purchase or cancellation of any 2011 Notes resulting from the offer to holders of 2011 Notes to subscribe for Bonds using proceeds from the 2011 Notes, which is described in section 4.2 ("2011 Reinvestment Offer").

Debt maturity profile ($ million)

Prior to the issue

Australian Unity's existing external debt facilities and their maturities are as follows as at 30 June 2015:

Facility	Amount drawn	Maturity
Bank facility ($15m)	$0m	March 2017
Australian Unity Notes due 2016	$120m	April 2016

In addition, subsequent to 30 June 2015, Australian Unity has entered into an additional unsecured $100 million bank facility maturing on 4 November 2016.

The existing interest bearing debt obligations and their maturities for subsidiaries of Australian Unity are as follows as at 30 June 2015:

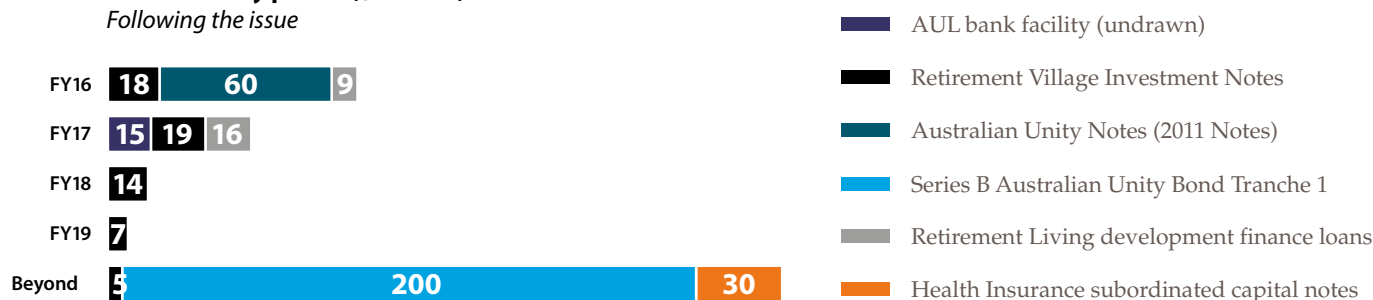

Facility	Amount drawn	Maturity
Health insurance subordinated capital notes*	$30.0m	11 July 2023
Retirement Living development finance loans	$25.3m	June 2016 to August 2017
ADI deposits (interest bearing liabilities)	$698.5m	On demand subject to notice
Retirement Village Investment Notes	$63.2m	November 2015 to December 2023
Other external loans	$5.1m	Rolling three month
Guarantees	$6.8m	December 2015 to January 2023

* First call date is 11 July 2018.

The issue of the Bonds and the cancellation of the 2011 Notes under the Reinvestment Offer will have the effect of lengthening the debt maturity profile of the Australian Unity Group. The resulting debt maturity profile may reduce Australian Unity's exposure to refinancing risk in the coming years.

3.6.2 Credit Ratings

A Credit Rating is a statement, opinion or research dealing with the creditworthiness of a body or the ability of an issuer of a financial product to meet its obligations under the financial product.

Australia Ratings assigns Credit Ratings to differentiate the degree of credit worthiness of organisations and debt securities available to investors in the Australian financial market. Credit Ratings are assigned on a long-term and short-term rating scale. A long-term Credit Rating is assigned to an organisation or fixed income product where the term of the investment or financial exposure is greater than 12 months and a short-term Credit Rating is assigned where the period of the financial exposure or term of the debt security is less than 12 months.

Australia Ratings assigns long-term ratings from 'AAA' to 'C'. The ratings from 'AA' to 'C' may be modified by the addition of a plus or minus sign to show relative standing within the major rating categories. Australia Ratings' rating scale is set out below:

Creditworthiness classification	Long-term categories include	Short-term categories include
High	'AAA','AA','A'	'a-1','a-2'
Intermediate	'BBB','BB'	'a-3'
Low	'B','CCC','CC','C'	'b','c'

3.6.3 Product Complexity Indicators

A Product Complexity Indicator is a colour coded indicator that helps differentiate debt securities which may have similar credit attributes by highlighting to potential investors the nature of the security in terms of complexity or non-standard features that could give rise to unanticipated variability or change in the returns from the investment.

Australia Ratings assigns a Product Complexity Indicator to debt securities by using a colour spectrum similar to that used to provide warnings to the public in other non-financial circumstances (for example, bush fire warnings). Australia Ratings assigns Product Complexity Indicators ranging from 'Green' to 'Red'.

3.6.4 Credit Rating assigned to the Australian Unity Bonds

Australia Ratings has assigned a long-term Credit Rating of BBB+ to the Bonds, subject to no material changes occurring to the transaction structure or documentation. According to Australia Ratings, a Credit Rating of BBB+ represents a moderate degree of creditworthiness with adequate credit attributes. A BBB+ rating represents a good capacity to meet financial obligations in a timely manner. Credit Ratings are statements of opinion, not statements of fact or recommendations to buy or hold securities. Credit Ratings may be changed, withdrawn or suspended at any time.

3.6.5 Product Complexity Indicator assigned to the Australian Unity Bonds

Australia Ratings has assigned a 'Green' Product Complexity Indicator to the Bonds, subject to no material changes occurring to the transaction structure or documentation.

According to Australia Ratings, a 'Green' Product Complexity Indicator represents a simple financial product and reflects that the terms of the Bonds are simple and straightforward for a retail investor to understand.

Product Complexity Indicators are statements of opinion, not statements of fact or recommendations to buy or hold securities. Product Complexity Indicators may be changed, withdrawn or suspended at any time.

3.6.6 Australia Ratings' Disclaimer

Australia Ratings has made every effort to ensure the accuracy and reliability of the Credit Rating and Product Complexity Indicator as disclosed in this Prospectus. The Credit Rating and Product Complexity Indicator assigned are based on information provided to Australia Ratings or which was obtained from sources which it believed to be accurate and reliable at the time of the assignment of the rating. Australia Ratings does not guarantee the completeness and accuracy of the rating and it is possible that subsequent material events or information may come to light after the publication of the Credit Rating which are not known to Australia Ratings and which may have a material impact on the Credit Rating assigned.

Information in this section 3.6 has been supplied by Australia Ratings. To the extent permitted by law, Australian Unity takes no responsibility for this information.

3.7 Key risks update

A detailed outline of risks relating to Australian Unity Bonds and Australian Unity Group's business is contained in Section 4 ("Key risks") of the Base Prospectus. You should read the Base Prospectus in full before deciding whether to invest in the Bonds.

In addition to the risks described in Section 4 of the Base Prospectus, investors should consider the following risks.

3.7.1 The acquisition of Home Care NSW may not proceed

There is a risk the acquisition of Home Care NSW will not proceed due to the default of a party or a failure to meet a condition precedent to completion by either the New South Wales Government or Australian Unity, even though a binding contract exists. If the acquisition did not proceed, Australian Unity would use the proceeds from the issue of the Bonds that have not been used to refinance the 2011 Notes for general corporate purposes (as illustrated in Section 3.2). This may include paying down subsidiary level debt on issue (which is set out in Section 3.5) in the short term and funding other acquisitions and developments in the medium term.

3.7.2 The integration of Home Care NSW may not be successful

Australian Unity intends to incur indebtedness, including the Bonds and potentially additional debt facilities, to finance the acquisition of Home Care NSW. The performance of Home Care NSW after the acquisition is subject to numerous factors, including:

- retention of the customer base;
- retention of referral networks;
- retention of staff;
- integration of the workforce into the Australian Unity Group; and
- challenges arising from transition from government ownership to the Australian Unity Group.

The performance of Home Care NSW under the Australian Unity Group's ownership may impact on Australian Unity's ability to satisfy financial obligations under its indebtedness. Whilst the Directors of Australian Unity consider that the anticipated level of gearing following the acquisition is appropriate in the context of Australian Unity's size, strategy and current activities, an increase in borrowings may increase financial risk and exposure to changes in interest rates. Increased gearing associated with the acquisition of Home Care NSW may constrain the ability of Australian Unity to raise additional indebtedness used to undertake acquisitions and business expansion.

3.7.3 Additional risk disclosure in relation to Credit Rating

The Credit Rating of the Bonds is subject to revision or change at any time in accordance with Australia Ratings' methodologies and procedures, and its Australian Financial Services Licence conditions. It may change as a result of, among other things, changes in the Australian Unity Group's operating and financial performance, capital structure or for some other reason which might not be known to Australia Ratings at the date of this Prospectus. The Credit Rating issued in respect of the Bonds is a statement, an opinion or research dealing with the ability of Australian Unity to meet its obligations under the Bonds, and has been based on information provided to Australia Ratings.

A downgrade of the Credit Rating indicates a deterioration in Australia Ratings' opinion of the creditworthiness of the Bonds. A deterioration of creditworthiness could make it more difficult for Australian Unity to source or seek external funding and this may have an adverse impact on the operating and financial performance of Australian Unity and its ability to pay Interest owed on the Bonds or the Redemption Amount due on the Bonds.

A change in the Credit Rating of the Bonds could also directly affect the market price and liquidity of the Bonds.

The Credit Rating also may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to the Bonds, market and additional factors disclosed in section 4 of the Base Prospectus and other factors that may affect the actual value or trading value of the Bonds or Australian Unity's financial position. The Credit Rating is not a "market" rating, nor is it a recommendation to buy, hold or sell securities (including the Bonds), in as much as it does not comment as to market price or suitability for a particular investor. Additional information on Credit Ratings can be found in Section 3.6.

The interest payments on Bonds are obligations of Australian Unity and are not guaranteed by the Trustee or any of its directors, employees, officers, affiliates, agents, advisers, intermediaries, related body corporate or any other entity.

The obligation to redeem Bonds in accordance with their terms is a direct obligation of Australian Unity. Neither the Trustee nor any of its directors, employees, officers, affiliates, agents, advisers, intermediaries, related body corporate or any other entity guarantees the redemption of or prepayment of any principal under Bonds.

The Trustee is not responsible for monitoring Australian Unity's compliance with the Trust Deed nor Australian Unity's business.

3.8.7 Trustee's Privacy Policy

The Trustee may collect your personal information for the primary purpose of providing trustee services to Australian Unity and for ancillary purposes detailed in its privacy policy. 4.2 2011 Notes Reinvestment Offer

The 2011 Notes are unsecured and unsubordinated debt securities which were issued by Australian Unity to retail investors in 2011. The 2011 Notes trade on ASX under the code "AYUHA".

(a) Eligibility to participate in the Reinvestment Offer

The following holders of the 2011 Notes are eligible to participate in the Reinvestment Offer ("Eligible 2011 Notes holders"):

- registered holders of the 2011 Notes trading on ASX at 7:00 pm (AEDST) on 5 November 2015 (the "Reinvestment Record Date");
- holders who are shown on the register of holders of 2011 Notes as having an address in Australia (or another jurisdiction to which Australian Unity determines to extend the Reinvestment Offer); and
- holders who are not in the United States or a US Person, acting as a nominee for, or for the account or benefit of, a US Person, and who are not otherwise prevented from receiving the Offer under the laws of any jurisdiction as determined by Australian Unity.

(b) What is the Reinvestment Offer?³

The Reinvestment Offer is an offer available to Eligible 2011 Notes holders to apply for Bonds and fund their subscription for Bonds by selling to Australian Unity some or all of their 2011 Notes.

2011 Notes which are not sold to Australian Unity under the Reinvestment Offer will be redeemed for cash on 14 April 2016 (the scheduled maturity date of the 2011 Notes) at which time holders of 2011 Notes who do not participate in the Reinvestment Offer will receive the face value plus any accrued and unpaid interest to that date for each 2011 Note held.

³ Note – Australian Unity has obtained certain technical ASIC relief from Division 5A of Part 7.9 of the Corporations Act in relation to the Reinvestment Offer.

The Reinvestment Offer is not a simple rollover into a similar investment. The 2011 Notes and the Bonds, while having a number of similar features, have different benefits and risks, which must be evaluated independently (see section (f) below). The key differences include the following:

- The current margin on the 2011 Notes is 3.55 percent per annum. As a consequence of the change in market conditions since 2011 when the 2011 Notes were issued, the Margin for the Bonds (expected to be in the range of 2.80 - 2.90 percent)⁴ is less than the margin on the 2011 Notes.
- The level of gearing (calculated in accordance with the Covenant Gearing Ratio) that Australian Unity will undertake not to exceed under the Bonds is 50 percent, as opposed to 45 percent under the 2011 Notes and there have been changes to the definition of equity which broaden it to include obligations which are subordinated to the Bonds (of which there are currently none).
- There is a less restrictive negative pledge in the Bonds (compared with the 2011 Notes).
- The Maturity Date for the Bonds is 15 December 2020. The maturity date for the 2011 Notes is 14 April 2016.

Eligible 2011 Notes holders who elect to participate in the Reinvestment Offer will sell their 2011 Notes to Australian Unity for $100 plus the “Accrued Interest Amount” and the “Further Amount” per 2011 Note sold to Australian Unity.

The “Accrued Interest Amount” is an amount per 2011 Note payable to each Eligible 2011 Note holder who elects to participate in the Reinvestment Offer in compensation for the interest the holder would have received for the 62 day period from (and including) 14 October 2015 to (but excluding) the Issue Date for the Bonds (the “Stub Period”). The Accrued Interest Amount will be calculated on the basis of the market rate applicable to the 2011 Notes on 14 October 2015 plus a margin of 3.55 percent per annum for the Stub Period. Assuming the Issue Date is 15 December 2015 and based on an interest rate applicable to the Stub Period of 5.70 percent per annum, the Accrued Interest Amount would be $0.9682 per 2011 Note.

The “Further Amount” is an amount per 2011 Note payable to each Eligible 2011 Notes holder who elects to participate in the Reinvestment Offer in compensation for the difference in margin between the 2011 Notes and the Bonds for the period from the Issue Date to the 2011 Notes maturity date. Assuming the Issue Date is 15 December 2015 and based on a margin on the Bonds of 2.80 percent per annum and the margin on the 2011 Notes being 3.55 percent per annum, the Further Amount would be $0.2486 per 2011 Note.

$100 of the proceeds of the sale of a 2011 Note to Australian Unity will be applied to fund the subscription for a Bond and the participating Eligible 2011 Notes holder will receive an amount per 2011 Note sold equal to the sum of the Accrued Interest Amount and the Further Amount.

(c) Options available to Eligible 2011 Notes holders

Option	Action Eligible 2011 Notes holders may take to implement their preferred option
Option 1 – Apply under the Reinvestment Offer to sell all of your 2011 Notes to fund your subscription for Bonds	If you are an Eligible 2011 Notes holder, you may sell all of the 2011 Notes you held on the Reinvestment Record Date to Australian Unity to fund your subscription for Bonds. To choose this option, you must select ‘Option A – Full Reinvestment’ on your personalised paper or online Reinvestment Offer Application Form. If you hold a greater or lesser number of 2011 Notes than shown on the personalised Reinvestment Offer Application Form, and you select the full reinvestment option, you will be taken to have applied for the sale to Australian Unity of the lower of the number of 2011 Notes specified on your personalised Reinvestment Offer Application Form and the number of 2011 Notes registered in your name on the Closing Date of the Offer, expected to be 4 December 2015. In addition to participating in the Reinvestment Offer, an Eligible 2011 Notes holder wishing to increase its investment may apply for Bonds under the Member Offer (if an Eligible Member) or the Broker Firm Offer (if a client of a Syndicate Broker).

⁴ Note – the margin may be set outside this range.

Option 2 – Apply under the Reinvestment Offer to sell only some of your 2011 Notes to fund your subscription for Bonds

If you are an Eligible 2011 Notes holder, you may choose to sell only some of the 2011 Notes you held on the Reinvestment Record Date to Australian Unity to fund your subscription for Bonds.

To choose this option, you must select 'Option B – Partial Reinvestment' and specify the number of 2011 Notes to be sold to Australian Unity on your personalised paper or online Reinvestment Offer Application Form.

If you own 50 2011 Notes or fewer, you must apply to sell all of your 2011 Notes to Australian Unity to participate in the Reinvestment Offer. If you own more than 50 2011 Notes, you must apply to sell a minimum of 50 2011 Notes to Australian Unity to participate in the Reinvestment Offer.

If you hold a lesser number of 2011 Notes than you elect to sell to Australian Unity on your personalised Reinvestment Form, you will be taken to have applied for the sale of the lower of the number of 2011 Notes you held on the Reinvestment Record Date and the number of 2011 Notes registered in your name on the Closing Date of the Reinvestment Offer, expected to be 4 December 2015.

Option 3 – Sell your 2011 Notes on market

You may choose to sell or dispose of your 2011 Notes on market (in which case, you may have to pay brokerage) at the prevailing market price, which may be higher or lower than the price you would receive if you were to sell all your 2011 Notes to Australian Unity through the Reinvestment Offer and use the proceeds as you determine. To choose this option, you should contact your broker.

If you sell your 2011 Notes on market and use the proceeds to apply for Bonds, you will need to apply under the Member Offer or Broker Firm Offer and there is a risk you may not receive the level of allocation you may have through participation in the Reinvestment Offer.

The market price of 2011 Notes is subject to change from time to time. As at the close of trading on 6 November 2015, the market price per 2011 Note was $101. Up-to-date information about the market price of 2011 Notes can be obtained from asx.com.au (ASX code "AYUHA").

If you sell your 2011 Notes on market you may have to pay brokerage and your ability to sell and the price at which you sell your 2011 Notes depends on the liquidity of the market and the trading price at that time.

Option 4 – take no action

You are not required to participate in the Reinvestment Offer, or to sell your 2011 Notes on market and as such, you are not required to take any action.

(d) Eligible 2011 Notes holders who are also clients of Syndicate Brokers

Eligible 2011 Notes holders who are an Australian resident client of a Syndicate Broker may apply for Bonds through the Reinvestment Offer under the Broker Firm Offer. You should contact your Syndicate Broker for instructions on how to apply under the Broker Firm Offer.

(e) Ineligible holders of 2011 Notes

If you are a holder of the 2011 Notes with a registered address outside Australia on the Reinvestment Record Date (or you otherwise do not fulfil the requirements set out in section (b) above), then you are ineligible to participate in the Reinvestment Offer. In these circumstances, you are limited to Options 3 or 4 in the table in section (c) above.

(f) Comparison between 2011 Notes and Bonds

There are a number of key differences between 2011 Notes and Bonds. A comparison of the key features of 2011 Notes and Bonds is set out in summary form below. This comparison is not exhaustive.

Feature	2011 Notes	Bonds
Issuer	Australian Unity Limited	Australian Unity Limited

Interest payments	Mandatory, not deferrable	Mandatory, not deferrable
Payment frequency	Quarterly	Quarterly
Transferable	Yes – quoted on ASX	Yes – to be quoted on ASX
Gearing covenant	45%, although the trustee of the 2011 Notes has agreed to an amendment to the gearing covenant so that the cash proceeds of the Bonds (which would otherwise adversely affect the gearing covenant) are carved out of the gearing ratio—security is being granted by Australian Unity to the trustee, The Trust Company (Australia) Limited over the bank account into which those cash proceeds will be deposited (until any 2011 Notes which remain on issue have been paid out)	50% (and there are changes to the basis of computation of the covenant)

Restrictions on subsidiary indebtedness	Yes	Yes
Holder early redemption rights	Only on a Delisting Event—redemption occurs automatically on a change of control	Only on a change of control of Australian Unity (and provided that a Holder Resolution is passed in favour of requiring redemption)

(g) Risks associated with participating in the Reinvestment Offer

Once you apply to participate in the Reinvestment Offer, you will not be able to sell your 2011 Notes on market. If you apply to participate in the Reinvestment Offer, it is your responsibility to ensure that you do not sell or dispose of any of those 2011 Notes in respect of which you have applied to participate, other than as part of the Reinvestment Offer.

If you apply to participate in the Reinvestment Offer you are taken to agree to a holding lock being placed on the 2011 Notes you have elected to sell, pending completion of the Reinvestment Offer—but it is your obligation to ensure that you do not transfer those 2011 Notes. If you do, the number of Bonds you may be allocated will be reduced to the extent the required number of 2011 Notes are not available on the Closing Date of the Reinvestment Offer.

Once you have submitted an Application Form under the Reinvestment Offer, you will not be able to successfully deal with those 2011 Notes unless the holding lock which will be placed on those 2011 Notes is released (which will only occur if the Offer does not proceed).

If you elect to participate in the Reinvestment Offer but the Offer (including the Reinvestment Offer) does not proceed, those 2011 Notes that you elected to sell to Australian Unity to fund a subscription for Bonds will be released from the holding lock as soon as practicable.

Once released, you may sell your 2011 Notes on ASX at the prevailing market price subject to the liquidity of that market. Any application payment in respect of additional Bonds will be refunded to you. 2011 Notes not sold to Australian Unity under the Reinvestment Offer (and not sold on the ASX) will remain outstanding until redeemed by Australian Unity in April 2016.

(h) Brokerage and stamp duty

No brokerage or stamp duty is payable on the sale of your 2011 Notes to Australian Unity under the Reinvestment Offer or on your Application for Bonds. 2011 Notes holders who choose to sell their 2011 Notes on market may be required to pay any applicable brokerage.

⁵ Note – the margin may be set outside this range.

4.3 Minimum application

The amount you have to pay for each Bond is $100. The minimum application size for Applicants under the Institutional Offer and Broker Firm Offer is 50 Bonds ($5,000). The minimum application size for Applicants under the Member Offer is 20 Bonds ($2,000).

4.4 No brokerage or stamp duty

You do not have to pay brokerage or stamp duty on your Application for Bonds. However, you may have to pay brokerage (and applicable GST) on any subsequent purchases or sales of Bonds on the ASX.

4.5 Exposure Period

The Corporations Act prohibits Australian Unity from processing Applications to subscribe for Bonds under the Offer Documents in the seven day period after the lodgement date of this Offer Specific Prospectus (“Exposure Period”). This period may be extended by ASIC by up to a further seven days.

This period is to enable this Offer Specific Prospectus (and the Base Prospectus) to be examined by market participants prior to the raising of funds. Applications received during the Exposure Period will not be processed until after the expiry of that period. No preference will be conferred on Applications received during the Exposure Period.

4.6 Allocation policy and refunds

Bookbuild

The Bookbuild is a process that will be conducted by the Joint Lead Managers before the Opening Date.

In this process, the Bookbuild participants are invited to lodge bids for Bonds. On the basis of those bids, Australian Unity, in consultation with the Joint Lead Managers, will determine the margin and the firm allocations to Bookbuild participants, being Syndicate Brokers and certain Institutional Investors.

Australian Unity may change the size of the Offer following the close of the Bookbuild.

Member Offer

If possible, having regard to the total level of Applications under the Offer, Australian Unity will endeavour to provide Applicants under the Member Offer with an Allocation of at least 100 Bonds or such lesser amount as is applied for. However, Australian Unity does not guarantee any minimum Allocation under the Member Offer and the extent of any Allocation will ultimately depend on the total level of Applications under the Offer and the level of applications under the Reinvestment Offer.

Australian Unity has the absolute discretion to determine the method and extent of the Allocation to Applicants under the Member Offer.

In particular, Australian Unity, in consultation with the Joint Lead Managers, reserves the right (at its discretion) to:

- allocate to any Eligible Member all Bonds for which they have applied; or
- allocate to any Eligible Member a lesser number of Bonds for which they have applied, or none at all.

Broker Firm Offer

If you have applied under the Broker Firm Offer, your Syndicate Broker is responsible for determining your Allocation from their Broker Firm Allocation. Australian Unity takes no responsibility for any allocation, scale-back or rejection that is decided by your Syndicate Broker.

Institutional Offer

Allocations to Institutional Investors will be determined by Australian Unity in consultation with the Joint Lead Managers following the Bookbuild.

Reinvestment Offer

Applications under the Reinvestment Offer will be treated with priority when received, but may be limited by the overall size of the Offer and any earlier allocations of Bonds under the Bookbuild.

Refunds

Until the Bonds are Issued, Australian Unity will hold the Application Monies in a trust account. The account will be established and kept solely for the purpose of depositing Application Monies and dealing with those funds.

If you are not Allocated any Bonds or less than the number of Bonds you applied for, you will receive a refund cheque as soon as practicable after the Closing Date. No interest will be payable on Application Monies which are refunded. Any interest earned in the trust will be retained by Australian Unity.

4.7 Issue and quotation of Bonds

It is expected that the Bonds will be quoted on the ASX under the ASX code AYUHB. If ASX does not grant permission for the Bonds to be quoted by the Issue Date, the Bonds will not be Issued and all Application Monies will be refunded (without interest) as soon as practicable.

4.8 Trading and Holding Statements

(a) Commencement of trading of Bonds on ASX

It is expected that the Bonds will begin trading on ASX on a deferred settlement basis on Wednesday, 16 December 2015. Trading on a deferred settlement basis occurs when Holding Statements have not yet been despatched and it is not possible to settle trades on a trade date plus three business days (T+3) basis. The trade is settled on a date specified by ASX.

It is expected that the Bonds will begin trading on ASX on a normal settlement basis on 18 December 2015.

It is your responsibility to determine your holding of Bonds before trading to avoid the risk of selling Bonds you do not own. You should check your holding by asking your broker or by calling Link Market Services.

(b) Holding Statements

Australian Unity will apply for the Bonds to participate in CHESS and, if accepted, no certificates will be issued. Instead, a Holding Statement will be mailed to Holders. If your holding of the Bonds changes, you will receive an updated Holding Statement.

(c) Provision of TFN and/or ABN

When your Holding Statement is mailed, you will also be mailed a form on which to provide your TFN and/or ABN should you wish to do so (see Section 5.1.8 ("Provision of TFN and/or ABN") of the Base Prospectus).

(d) Provision of bank account details for payments

Interest will be paid in Australian dollars by direct credit into nominated Australian financial institution accounts (excluding credit card accounts), for Holders with a registered address in Australia. For all other Holders, Interest will be paid by Australian dollar cheque. When your Holding Statement is mailed, you will also be mailed a form on which to provide your bank account details for payments of Face Value and Interest.

2.1.4 Covenants – Negative pledge, gearing and restrictions on the incurrence of indebtedness by Subsidiaries of Australian Unity

Negative pledge

Australian Unity will not secure any “Relevant Indebtedness” without according the same security (or an equal ranking security) to the Bonds. Some security interests are excluded from the negative pledge:

- a security interest granted by Australian Unity to The Trust Company (Australia) Limited (acting as trustee) securing Australian Unity’s obligations in respect of the 2011 Notes; and
- a security interest granted by Australian Unity securing indebtedness owing under syndicated or loan term arrangements where at the time that the security interest is granted the aggregate principal amount of any such indebtedness secured by all such security interests is not more than 10 percent of Total Equity.

Base Terms (Clause 4.1)

“Relevant Indebtedness” broadly means debt securities issued by Australian Unity (including Bonds of another Series) which are quoted on a stock exchange and indebtedness owing under syndicated or term loan arrangements.

The Bonds do not restrict Australian Unity from granting security for debt which is not Relevant Indebtedness, or for indebtedness owing under syndicated or term loan arrangements within the limit described above.

Covenant Gearing Ratio limit (applies if specified in the Offer Specific Prospectus)

So long as any Bonds of a Series are outstanding, Australian Unity will ensure that, on each 30 June and 31 December, the Covenant Gearing Ratio is not greater than 50 percent (or the percentage specified in the Offer Specific Prospectus).

The “Covenant Gearing Ratio” is as follows:

Gearing Ratio Debt

Gearing Ratio Debt + Gearing Ratio Equity

“Gearing Ratio Debt” means the sum of Consolidated Interest Bearing Liabilities and Australian Unity Guarantees, less ADI Interest Bearing Liabilities, ADI Guarantees, Benefit Fund Interest Bearing Liabilities, Junior Ranking Obligations and AUL Cash.

Base Terms (Clause 4.2)

“Gearing Ratio Equity” means Total Equity less ADI Equity.

This covenant is designed to limit the proportion of debt funding of the Australian Unity Group, excluding cash held by Australian Unity, debt of Big Sky and any other ADI of the Australian Unity Group and any debt of the Benefit Funds and debt in respect of Junior Ranking Obligations. As at the date of this Base Prospectus, the Benefit Funds have no debt and no equity because they are not permitted to incur debt and assets of the Benefit Funds equal liabilities of the Benefit Funds.

A more detailed explanation of the Covenant Gearing Ratio is in section 3.8.2 of this Base Prospectus.

Restrictions on Subsidiary Indebtedness

No Subsidiary of Australian Unity will incur Financial Indebtedness (other than in certain circumstances set out in the Base Terms and the Offer Specific Terms). The restriction does not apply to Subsidiaries which are, broadly, trusts which are funded by the public or external investors and in respect of which an Australian Unity Group entity does not have a relevant interest in more than 50 percent of the issued units.

“Financial Indebtedness” is defined broadly in Clause 12.4 of the Base Terms.

The covenant does not apply to the following:

- Limited Recourse Debt;
- Financial Indebtedness owed by one member of the Australian Unity Group to another member of the Australian Unity Group;
- certain Financial Indebtedness of an entity which becomes a member of the Australian Unity Group after the Issue Date;
- any other present or future Financial Indebtedness not referred to above provided the aggregate principal amount is not more than 10 percent of Total Equity;
- any other present or future Financial Indebtedness specified in the Offer Specific Terms.

Base Terms (Clause 4.3),
Offer Specific Prospectus

The covenant also does not apply to any ADI that is a member of the Australian Unity Group (which, as at the date of this Base Prospectus, means Big Sky).

References to “Australian Unity Group” above have the meaning given in Clause 12.4 of the Base Terms.

“Limited Recourse Debt” is Financial Indebtedness of certain Subsidiaries of Australian Unity which is incurred in relation to the purchase, construction, development or operation of an asset (or the income or cashflow from those assets) or shares or units issued by that entity or those entities and the financier otherwise has no guarantee from any member of the Australian Unity Group (as defined in clause 12.4 of the Base Terms) which is not involved in the purchase, construction, development or operation of such asset or any security over any other assets of the Australian Unity Group, and includes a refinancing of any such Financial Indebtedness.

This undertaking is intended to limit the extent to which the Holders are structurally subordinated to other financial creditors of the Australian Unity Group.

2.1.5 Security and ranking

Security

The Bonds are unsecured. This means that they are not secured against any asset of Australian Unity or any of its Subsidiaries or any other person.

Ranking on a winding up of Australian Unity

On a winding up of Australian Unity, the Bonds of all Series will rank for payment of Face Value and accrued and unpaid Interest equally with each other and at least equally with all other unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of Australian Unity (other than any obligations preferred by mandatory provisions of applicable law, including employee entitlements and secured creditors). The table below illustrates how the Bonds would rank on a winding up of Australian Unity:

Type	Illustrative examples ²
Preferred and secured debt	Liabilities preferred by law including employee entitlements and secured creditors

Offer Specific Prospectus

Australian Unity is a non-operating holding company and a substantial majority of its assets are its investments in other members of the Australian Unity Group. As a non-operating company, Australian Unity is dependent upon intercompany transfers of funds from other members of the Australian Unity Group to meet its obligations under the Terms.

Most of Australian Unity's claims on its Subsidiaries rank behind creditors of those Subsidiaries, and the Bonds are not guaranteed by a Subsidiary so no Holder has a claim on any Subsidiary.

Information on the facility limits and amounts currently drawn down on Australian Unity Group's existing financing facilities will be set out in Section 3 of the relevant Offer Specific Prospectus.

Further issues of securities

Australian Unity may, from time to time, issue additional Series of Bonds in accordance with this Base Prospectus and the relevant Offer Specific Prospectus that will be issued at the time of that offering.

Australian Unity will use its reasonable endeavours to ensure that each Series of Bonds will be quoted on a stock exchange under a code specified in the relevant Offer Specific Prospectus.

³ The Trust Company (Australia) Limited has the benefit, on behalf of holders of the 2011 Notes, of a security interest in respect of the 2011 Notes which would be discharged and released upon repayment of the 2011 Notes in April 2016. 2.2 How a bond works

A bond is an agreement between a company and an investor that the investor will lend the company an amount of money, which the company will repay to the investor at the end of an agreed period. The “face value” of a bond represents the principal amount that the company has promised to repay to the investor and is the basis for the calculation of the interest payable on the bond. Generally, the issue price (ie, the amount that the investor pays the company for the bond) is the same amount as the face value (unless otherwise specified).

While the company is borrowing the money, the company will periodically pay interest to the investor. The amount of interest payable on each bond is equal to the face value multiplied by the agreed interest rate. Interest is payable periodically.

If bonds are listed on a stock exchange and an investor does not wish to hold the bonds for the whole term, the investor can sell them on the stock exchange. However, depending upon the price at which the bonds are trading on the stock exchange, the bonds may be sold for an amount more, less or equal to face value.

Bonds may be considered as part of a diversified investment plan. In an investment portfolio, bonds may perform a different role to conservative investments such as savings and deposit accounts, as the market value of bonds can go up and down depending on economic conditions and interest rates.

The main risks of investing in bonds include:

- the company issuing the bonds may experience financial difficulty, meaning it may not make interest payments when they are due;
- the company issuing the bonds may go out of business entirely, meaning that investors may not be repaid; and
- investors may not be able to sell their bonds on the stock exchange to exit the investment before the maturity date, or may only be able to do so at a loss if there are not enough willing buyers of the bonds.

Australian Unity Group's strategy is to build a leading, commercial, sustainable, portfolio of businesses that foster wellbeing. This includes:

- developing longer term plans to extend the reach of services and products that serve the wellbeing needs of Australians;

- optimising the management and operation of existing businesses to achieve continued organic growth and operational efficiencies; and
- building a financially strong company with a balanced approach to risk.

As part of this overall approach, Australian Unity aims to play a part in addressing the "social infrastructure challenge" arising from the ageing population, marked increases in chronic disease and insufficient retirement savings.

3.5 Governance arrangements

Good corporate governance is a fundamental aspect of the Australian Unity Group's culture and business practices, with the key facets of the Australian Unity's Group Governance Structure being outlined below:

Australian Unity Board of Directors

- Comprises a majority of directors who are non-executive and judged to be independent by the board.
- The Board's responsibility is outlined in the Board Charter and includes items such as: appointment of the Group Managing Director, approval of the Australian Unity Group's business strategies, approval of delegates and approval of Group policies.

Board Committees

- Various Board Committees are established for the purpose of advising the Group's Leadership Team and maintaining appropriate standards.
- As at the date of this document, the Board has four Board Committees being: the Audit and Compliance, Risk, Investment and Human Resources, Remuneration and Nominations Committee (the "HR Committee"). Please refer to Australian Unity's website for updated information on the Board Committees.

Regulatory Framework

For further information on the Governance Arrangements of Australian Unity, please refer to Australian Unity's annual report released in September or October of each year as available on www.australianunity.com.au/annualreports.

3.6 Trust Deed relating to Australian Unity

The Trust Deed dated 9 November 2015 is the agreement between Australian Unity and the Trustee in relation to the Trustee's role. It has been incorporated by reference and as such forms part of the Offer of the Bonds. It is available at www.australianunity.com.au/bonds.

The Trust Deed constitutes the Bonds. Australian Unity has undertaken to the Trustee to pay amounts due and payable in respect of each Bond in accordance with the Trust Deed. Australian Unity makes a number of covenants with the Trustee for the benefit of Holders including to comply with its obligations under the Bonds and Chapter 2L of the Corporations Act.

3.7 Role of the Trustee

The Corporations Act requires that when debt securities such as the Bonds are offered and a prospectus is required, Australian Unity must appoint a trustee to help protect the interests of investors and to facilitate the ongoing monitoring of Australian Unity. An issuer is obliged to report regularly to the trustee, including quarterly reports, information about security interests and half-yearly and annual financial reports.

Australian Unity has appointed Australian Executor Trustees Limited (ACN 007 869 794) as the Trustee for Holders of the Bonds. Under the Trust Deed, the Trustee holds on trust (for the benefit of Holders) the right to enforce Australian Unity's obligations in respect of the Bonds. The Trustee has the power to call meetings of the Holders and provide information to and make recommendations to the Holders. The Trustee is not responsible for monitoring any breach of the Trust Deed, the occurrence of any Event of Default under the Terms, Australian Unity's compliance with the Trust Deed or Australian Unity's businesses except as required by law. In this regard, the Trustee has a statutory duty to exercise reasonable diligence to ascertain:

- (a) whether the property of Australian Unity that is or should be available (whether by way of security or otherwise) will be sufficient to repay the amount deposited or lent when it becomes due; and
- (b) whether Australian Unity has committed any breach of the Terms, the provisions of the Trust Deed or Chapter 2L of the Corporations Act.

3.8 Financial information

3.8.1 Financial statements

Australian Unity's annual reports contain the consolidated statement of comprehensive income and consolidated balance sheet for each financial year end and are available from Australian Unity's website at <http://www.australianunity.com.au/annualreports>.

3.8.2 Key Financial ratios

Corporations Act Prescribed Ratios

The Corporations Act requires Australian Unity to disclose certain Key Financial Ratios, calculated in accordance with Corporations Regulation 6D.2.06, that are relevant to Australian Unity. These are a Gearing Ratio (total liabilities divided by total equity), a Working Capital Ratio (current assets divided by current liabilities) and an Interest Cover Ratio (EBITDA divided by net interest expense), in each case for the consolidated Australian Unity Group.

The prescribed Key Financial Ratios are not used as the basis for the covenants which are included in the Terms (described in Section 2.1.4), so any change in the prescribed Key Financial Ratios does not affect the rights of Holders.

Australian Unity does not consider the prescribed Key Financial Ratios to be a reliable measure of the capacity of Australian Unity to meet its obligations to Holders under the Bonds. A better measure of Australian Unity's ability to meet its obligations under the Bonds is given by the Covenant Gearing Ratio and the AU Interest Cover Ratio (both of which exclude the financial position of Big Sky and the Benefit Funds, among other things).

The Covenant Gearing Ratio is the gearing ratio typically used by the business and for certain of Australian Unity's credit facilities, and in particular, is a provision of the Bonds. The AU Interest Cover Ratio is the interest cover ratio typically used by the business and for certain of Australian Unity's credit facilities.

Impact of the ADI and Benefit Funds on the prescribed Key Financial Ratios

The prescribed Key Financial Ratios must take into account the financial position of Big Sky and the Benefit Funds (as consolidated Subsidiaries of the Australian Unity Group). However:

- Big Sky is an ADI which is funded by taking in deposits. Many of these deposits are on-demand (that is, they are current liabilities of Big Sky). Big Sky then lends money as mortgages (which are non-current assets). Big Sky aims to profit from lending money (that is, it earns more in interest than it pays out) and this has a significant impact on the Gearing Ratio (which is very high), Working Capital Ratio (which is low) and Interest Cover Ratio (which is negative).
- Prudent levels of gearing and solvency in an ADI such as Big Sky are regulated by prudential regulations through a prescribed capital adequacy ratio which must be maintained and a liquidity standard with which Big Sky must comply.
- The Benefit Funds are funds established under the Life Insurance Act and are in the business of providing life insurance. Life insurance companies are regulated under the Life Insurance Act. Prudential standards made under the Act require the Benefit Funds to maintain net assets at certain levels and limit their borrowings. The Life Insurance Act requires assets in each Benefit Fund to be held for the benefit of claimants on that Benefit Fund, and restricts the ability of any surplus to be distributed to the Australian Unity Group.

- Big Sky and the Benefit Funds do not provide guarantees of other members of the Australian Unity Group (and other members of the Australian Unity Group do not provide guarantees of Big Sky or the Benefit Funds).

The financial position of each of Big Sky and the Benefits Funds meets the requirements of prudential regulation and they are expected to meet their obligations on a stand-alone basis.

Gearing Ratio

The Gearing Ratio is calculated in accordance with Regulation 6D.2.06(3) of the Corporations Regulations and is as follows:

$$\text{Gearing Ratio} = \frac{\text{Total liabilities}}{\text{Total equity}}$$

The Gearing Ratio provides an indication of a company's ability to repay its debts and focuses on the balance sheet of the company. The application of the Gearing Ratio to Australian Unity is not reliable because of the distortions produced by the ADIs and Benefit Funds (described below).

Covenant Gearing Ratio

The Covenant Gearing Ratio is a covenant included in the Terms of the Bonds.

The Covenant Gearing Ratio excludes the financial position of Big Sky and the Benefit Funds, which are subject to APRA's prudential requirements, but includes the equity represented by the management fund held to support the Benefit Funds as the Benefit Funds already meet applicable prudential requirements.

The Covenant Gearing Ratio also excludes non-interest bearing liabilities to provide a more accurate measure of the extent to which Australian Unity actively borrows in financial markets to fund its growth plans. In general, liabilities can be considered as either operational in nature or borrowings. In the case of Australian Unity, operational liabilities may include items such as trade and other payables, deferred tax liabilities, refundable accommodation deposits and resident loan liabilities, while borrowings may include items such as bank facilities, Australian Unity Bonds and interest bearing Retirement Village Investment Notes. Please refer to each year's Australian Unity Annual Report for further information on operational liabilities and borrowings.

Junior Ranking Obligations, such as subordinated debt, are also included in the calculation of the Covenant Gearing Ratio as equity, as these will rank behind the Bonds in a winding up of Australian Unity.

An increase in the Covenant Gearing Ratio may indicate that Australian Unity's leverage has increased, and the ability to repay the Bonds at maturity has diminished. An increase in the Covenant Gearing Ratio over the percentage specified in the Offer Specific Terms may also indicate an increase in the likelihood of Australian Unity otherwise defaulting under the Terms.

Comparison of the Gearing Ratio to the Covenant Gearing Ratio

	Gearing Ratio	Covenant Gearing Ratio
Basis	Calculated in accordance with regulation 6D.2.06(3)	Calculated in accordance with Clause 4.2 of the Base Terms
Formula	$\frac{\text{Total liabilities}}{\text{Total equity}}$	$\frac{\text{Gearing Ratio Debt}}{\text{Gearing Ratio Debt} + \text{Gearing Ratio Equity}}$
Ratio as at 30 June 2015	697.9%	31.5%
Calculation (Numerator)	Total Liabilities	Total Liabilities ⁴ Add: Consolidated guarantees ⁵ Subtract: ADI guarantees ⁶ Benefit fund policyholder liabilities ⁷ ADI interest bearing liabilities ⁸ Other (non-interest bearing) liabilities ⁹ AUL Cash ¹⁰ Interest bearing liabilities which are Junior Ranking Obligations ¹¹ Equals: Gearing Ratio Debt
Denominator	Equity	Equity ¹² Add: Junior Ranking Obligations ¹³ Subtract: ADI equity ¹⁴ Equals: Gearing Ratio Equity Add: Gearing Ratio Debt Equals: Denominator

⁴ The calculation of both ratios begins with Total Liabilities sourced from the AUL consolidated balance sheet.

⁵ Australian Unity provides financial guarantees to certain parties in exceptional circumstances and subject to specific board approval. Under the Covenant Gearing Ratio, the numerator is increased to include the maximum amount that could be paid if guarantees are called on.

⁶ To the extent that Australian Unity's ADI operations provide financial guarantees they will be excluded from the Covenant Gearing Ratio on the same basis that interest bearing liabilities are excluded.

⁹ Non-interest bearing liabilities are excluded as they diminish the usefulness of the ratio in considering the extent to which the Australian Unity Group is funded by debt.

¹⁰ The numerator is reduced by the amount of cash held in the Issuer's account that is not encumbered or held in trust for third parties (this does not include cash held by the issuer's operating subsidiaries).

¹¹ The numerator is adjusted to reflect the benefit of any interest bearing liabilities that, like equity, rank for repayment after Australian Unity Bonds.

¹² The calculation of the denominator of both ratios begins with Total Equity sourced from the AUL consolidated balance sheet. As Benefit Fund assets equal Benefit Fund liabilities, Total Equity excludes any Benefit Fund component.

¹³ The denominator is adjusted to reflect the benefit of any interest bearing liabilities that, like equity, rank for repayment after the Bonds.

¹⁴ Equity associated with the Australian Unity Group's ADI operations is excluded from the Covenant Gearing Ratio to balance the exclusion of liabilities associated with the ADI operations set out in 8 above. The funding of the ADI is considered in the separately disclosed Tier 1 Capital Ratio for the Australian Unity Group's ADIs.

ADI Tier 1 Capital Ratio

As mentioned above, an ADI is required to hold capital in line with applicable prudential requirements. An ADI is required to report various capital ratios including the Tier 1 Capital Ratio. The Tier 1 Capital Ratio represents the amount of capital that an ADI holds as a percentage of its risk weighted assets. The Tier 1 Capital Ratio of any ADI of the Australian Unity Group will be included in the relevant Offer Specific Prospectus.

Working Capital Ratio

The Working Capital Ratio is calculated in accordance with Regulation 6D.2.06(4) of the Corporations Regulations and is as follows:

$$\text{Working Capital ratio} = \frac{\text{Current assets}}{\text{Current liabilities}}$$

Australian Unity's Working Capital Ratio as at 30 June 2015 was 1.32x.

The Working Capital Ratio indicates whether an issuer has sufficient short term assets to meet its short term liabilities. Generally, a higher ratio indicates a greater ability to meet liabilities over the short term, including unexpected liabilities. However, businesses which include an ADI tend to have a lower working capital ratio. The Working Capital Ratio is not included as a term of the Bonds.

Interest Cover Ratio

The Interest Cover Ratio is calculated in accordance with Regulation 6D.2.06(5) of the Corporations Regulations and is as follows.

$$\text{Interest Cover Ratio} = \frac{\text{EBITDA}}{\text{Net interest expense}}$$

The Interest Cover Ratio provides an indication of Australian Unity's ability to meet its interest payments from earnings. Generally, a low ratio may indicate that Australian Unity could face difficulties in servicing its debt if earnings decrease or interest rates increase. In the case of Australian Unity, the application of this ratio may result in negative values as interest income typically exceeds interest expense.

AU Interest Cover Ratio

The adjusted interest expense in the calculation of the AU Interest Cover Ratio excludes the net interest income of Big Sky and the Benefit Funds, and any interest from time to time on any loans by the management fund to the Benefit Funds.

The other businesses within the Australian Unity Group earn interest on their cash and cash equivalent assets, and this net interest income is also excluded.

In the case of Australian Unity, the inclusion of net interest income from the ADI operations and Benefit Funds and other interest income results in a negative value net interest expense because interest income will normally exceed interest expense. The exclusion of these interest income components provides a better insight into Australian Unity's interest obligations.

The AU Interest Cover Ratio is not included in the Terms of the Bonds. Some form of interest cover ratio is included as a covenant in Australian Unity's bank debt facilities.

A decrease in the AU Interest Cover Ratio may also indicate that Australian Unity's ability to make interest payments under the Bonds has diminished (because of a decrease in its interest coverage position).

Comparison of the Interest Cover Ratio to the AU Interest Cover Ratio

	Interest Cover Ratio	AU Interest Cover Ratio (adjusted)
Basis	Calculated in accordance with regulation 6D.2.06(5)	Calculated to provide debt service obligation capability to investors
Formula	$\frac{\text{EBITDA}}{\text{Net interest expense}}$	$\frac{\text{Adjusted EBITDA}}{\text{Adjusted interest expense}}$
Ratio as at 30 June 2015	(8.26)x	4.57x
Calculation (Numerator)	Net profit before tax Add: Depreciation and amortisation Subtract: Net interest income (per below) Equals: EBITDA	Net profit before tax Add: Adjusted interest expense (per below) Depreciation and amortisation Subtract: Benefit fund net profit before tax¹⁵ Equals: Adjusted EBITDA
Calculation (Denominator)	ADI net interest income Add: Benefit Fund net interest income Other net interest expense Equals: Net interest expense	Net interest income¹⁶ Subtract: ADI net interest income¹⁷ Benefit Fund net interest income¹⁷ Other interest income¹⁷ Equals: Adjusted interest expense

¹⁵ In accordance with Australian Accounting Standards the revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities of benefit funds managed by the Australian Unity Group are included in the consolidated financial statements and hence captured in the definition of net profit before tax used in the Interest Cover Ratio. Profits relating to the benefit funds that are managed by the Australian Unity Group are excluded from the AU Interest Cover Ratio, as in contrast to the accounting treatment, the revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities of benefit funds are not attributable to the members of the Australian Unity Group.

¹⁶ Australian Unity's interest income normally exceeds its interest expense.

¹⁷ The business model of an ADI involves generating a spread between interest paid out on its liabilities, such as deposits and interest earned on assets such as home loans. The excess revenue produced by an ADI typically results in net interest income. The Benefit Funds similarly normally generate net interest income. In addition, the other businesses of Australian Unity earn interest on their cash and cash equivalent assets. The inclusion of net interest income from the ADI operations and Benefit Funds and other interest income may result in a negative value Interest Cover Ratio where interest income exceeds interest expense in the consolidated statement of comprehensive income.

4.1 Introduction

Before investing in the Bonds, you should consider whether the Bonds are a suitable investment for you. The MoneySmart website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) is run by ASIC to help people make smart choices about their personal finances. In particular, it includes guidance for retail investors who are considering investing in bonds.

You should be aware that there are risks associated with the Australian Unity businesses and an investment in Australian Unity generally. Australian Unity Group's business and financial performance may affect the ability of Australian Unity to fulfil its obligations under, or in respect of, the Terms, the credit quality of Australian Unity, and hence the Bonds themselves. General economic factors may also affect an investment in Australian Unity or the performance of Australian Unity.

Many of these risks are outside the control of the Directors and Australian Unity, including some of the risk factors set out in this section and other matters mentioned in the Offer Documents. This Section 4 is not intended to list every risk that may be associated with an investment in Australian Unity and the Bonds. You should seek your own professional advice on such matters.

4.2 Main risks associated with the Bonds

The main risks of investing in the Bonds are:

- Australian Unity may experience financial difficulty, such that they cannot make interest payments when they are due;
- Australian Unity may go out of business entirely, in which case investors will not be repaid; and
- investors may not be able to sell the Bonds on the ASX or the relevant securities exchange on which the Bonds are listed to exit their investment before their maturity date, or may only be able to do so at a loss.

4.2.1 Market price of the Bonds

The market price of the Bonds may fluctuate due to various factors including general movements in interest rates, credit margins, the Australian and international investment markets, international economic conditions, changes in inflation rates and inflationary expectations, the market price of any other Australian Unity debt, factors that affect Australian Unity's financial position and performance or credit worthiness, global geo-political events and hostilities, investor perceptions and other factors beyond the control of Australian Unity and its Directors.

It is possible that the Bonds may trade at a market price below their Face Value. If the Bonds trade at a market price below the amount at which you acquired them, there is a risk that if you sell them prior to the Maturity Date, you may lose some of the money you invested.

4.2.2 Liquidity of the Bonds

Australian Unity has applied for the Bonds to be quoted on ASX. However, the Bonds may have no established trading market when issued, and one may never develop. If a market does develop, it may be less liquid than the market for other securities. If Holders wish to sell their Bonds, they may be unable to do so easily or at an acceptable market price, or at all if insufficient liquidity exists in the market for the Bonds.

4.2.3 Changes in the Interest Rate payable

For any Series of Bonds issued with a floating interest rate, the Interest Rate for each Interest Period will be calculated on the first Business Day of that Interest Period by reference to a Market Rate, which will be influenced by a number of factors and varies over time. The Interest Rate will fluctuate (both increase and decrease) over time with movement in the Market Rate.

If a Series of Bonds is issued with a fixed interest rate, the Interest Rate for each Interest Period will be fixed and not vary over time. As the Market Rate fluctuates, there is a risk that the Interest Rate may become less attractive when compared to the rates of return available on other securities, which could decrease the trading price of fixed rate Bonds.

4.2.4 Australian Unity may default on payment of Face Value or Interest

Depending upon its performance and financial position, Australian Unity's cash flows and capital resources may not be sufficient to pay some or all of the Face Value or Interest due on Bonds as and when payable under their terms. Australian Unity's ability to repay the Face Value when due and payable may also be affected by the state of credit markets and the availability of replacement finance on acceptable terms.

4.2.5 The Bonds have limited Events of Default and put options

The only circumstances in which the Trustee may (under the direction of Holders) accelerate payment of the Bonds are where Australian Unity fails to make a payment on the Bonds (which is not remedied within 10 Business Days after the due date), fails to comply with other obligations under the Terms or the Trust Deed (which is not remedied for 30 Business Days after the Trustee has given notice of the failure), becomes insolvent or ceases or suspends the conduct of all of its business. Other than the change of control put option described in Section 2.1.3 of this Base Prospectus, Holders will have no right to require Australian Unity to Redeem the Bonds, including where the Bonds are no longer admitted to quotation on a stock exchange (although Australian Unity does have an obligation to use its reasonable endeavours to maintain the quotation of the Bonds on a stock exchange).

4.2.6 Restrictions on Holders rights and ranking in a winding-up

Each series of Bonds will be unsecured and unsubordinated. In the event of a winding-up of Australian Unity, assuming the Bonds have not been previously Redeemed, Holders will be entitled to be paid the Redemption Amount for each outstanding Australian Unity Bond.

The claim for this amount ranks behind any secured creditors of Australian Unity and any other creditors preferred by law, such as employees. It ranks ahead of obligations which by their terms or at law rank behind the Bonds (including subordinated instruments and members' interests in Australian Unity), and equally with other Bonds and any other obligations of Australian Unity which by their terms or at law rank equally with the Bonds (such as general and trade creditors of Australian Unity).

Subject to the relevant Covenant Gearing Ratio specified in the Offer Specific Prospectus, Australian Unity may incur additional obligations that may rank ahead of the Bonds. Pursuant to the negative pledge in the Terms, Australian Unity will not secure any "Relevant Indebtedness" without according the same security (or an equal ranking security) to the Bonds. "Relevant Indebtedness" broadly means debt securities issued by Australian Unity (including the Bonds of another Series) which are quoted on a stock exchange and indebtedness owing under syndicated or term loan arrangements. The negative pledge does not restrict Australian Unity from granting security for a debt which is not Relevant Indebtedness or for indebtedness owing under syndicated or term loan arrangements within the limit described in Section 2.1.4 of this Base Prospectus. Holders should also be aware that a security interest in respect of the 2011 Notes has been granted which is excluded from the negative pledge. See Section 2.1.4 of this Base Prospectus.

If there is a shortfall of funds on a winding-up to pay the amounts above, there is a risk that Holders will not receive the full payment (or any part thereof) to which they are otherwise entitled.

Australian Unity is a non-operating holding company. A substantial majority of its assets are its investments in other members of the Australian Unity Group. As a non-operating company, Australian Unity is dependent upon intercompany transfers of funds from other members of the Australian Unity Group to meet its obligations under the Terms. The ability of these entities to make payments to Australian Unity may be restricted by, among other things, applicable laws as well as agreements to which those entities may be a party, including capital adequacy requirements that apply to Big Sky and the Benefit Funds. Therefore Australian Unity's ability to make payments in respect of the Bonds may be limited.

4.2.7 Unless specified in the relevant Offer Specific Prospectus, there is a risk of early Redemption by Australian Unity

The Bonds may be Redeemed early by Australian Unity in certain circumstances, including following certain changes in taxation law (a "Tax Event"), a Change of Control Event, or where less than 10 percent of the Series of Australian Unity Bonds remain on issue (this is a "Clean Up Condition"). In the event of an early Redemption of the Bonds, you may not receive the returns you expected to receive on the Bonds (if held until maturity) by investing the proceeds in alternative investment opportunities at that time.

Refer to Section 2 ("About the Bonds") of this Base Prospectus and Clause 5 of the Base Terms for information relating to the events that may trigger an early redemption of the Bonds.

4.2.8 Unless specified in the relevant Offer Specific Prospectus, Holders may only collectively request early Redemption following a Change of Control Event

Holders of the Bonds have the option to require Australian Unity to Redeem their Bonds prior to the Maturity Date upon the occurrence of a Change of Control Event, but only if they pass a Holder Resolution in favour of exercising that option. Individual Holders have no right to require Redemption of Bonds in any circumstances. A redemption in these circumstances may not coincide with an individual Holder's preference.

To realise your investment prior to Redemption or the Maturity Date, you can sell your Bonds on the ASX, or the relevant market exchange on which the Bonds are listed, at the prevailing market price. However, depending on market conditions at the time, the Bonds may be trading at a market price below the Face Value for that particular Series, and/or the market for the Bonds may not be liquid and you will not be able to sell your Bonds.

4.2.9 Future issues of securities by Australian Unity

Australian Unity has the right to create and issue any class of debt securities, including an additional Series of Bonds, without the approval of Holders.

An investment in Bonds carries no right to participate in any future issue of debt securities by Australian Unity.

No prediction can be made as to the effect, if any, of any future issuance of debt securities by Australian Unity on the market price or liquidity of the Bonds.

4.2.10 Corporate actions

The Terms do not provide Holders with any rights in the event that Australian Unity undertakes any transactions that may involve the restructure of the Australian Unity Group, such as asset disposals or acquisitions, or other corporate transactions. Any such transactions would only give rise to rights for Holders if they constituted a Change of Control Event.

4.2.11 Taxation considerations

Holders should be aware that future changes in taxation law, including changes in interpretation or application of the law by the courts or taxation authorities, may affect the taxation treatment of an investment in Bonds, or the holding and disposal of Bonds.

In addition, if any changes in taxation law or the interpretation or application of law by the courts or taxation authorities result in any payment to a Holder being subject to an amount of withholding or deduction in respect of any taxes or governmental charges or in the payment of interest on the Bonds not being allowed as a deduction to Australian Unity, then Australian Unity is entitled to Redeem the Bonds.

4.3 Key business risks associated with Australian Unity and the Australian Unity Group

4.3.1 Financial indebtedness and other investments

Australian Unity may make additional investments through the acquisition of debt or equity instruments in listed and unlisted entities. This is because Australian Unity has the power to acquire or dispose of any real or personal property. Australian Unity may also incur further debts and obligations (including trade payables and future series of Bonds) which may have terms which are more favourable to the investors or financiers than the Bonds.

To the extent that these further debts or obligations rank equally with the Bonds, the holders of those obligations will be entitled to share pro rata with investors in any proceeds distributed in connection with any insolvency, liquidation, reorganisation, dissolution or other winding-up of Australian Unity. This may have the effect of reducing the amount of proceeds paid to Holders. To the extent that the debt or obligations rank ahead of the Bonds they will be entitled to those proceeds ahead of Holders and this may result in the loss of some or all of the capital invested by Holders.

Although the Terms of the Bonds contain a negative pledge which means that Australian Unity will not secure any "Relevant Indebtedness" without according the same security (or an equal ranking security) to the Bonds, the negative pledge places only limited restrictions on Australian Unity granting security for other indebtedness. This is because Relevant Indebtedness is limited (broadly) to the debt securities quoted on a stock exchange and to indebtedness owing under syndicated or term loan arrangements. Further security for syndicated or term loan arrangements may be granted if it falls within the limit described in Section 2.1.4 of this Base Prospectus. The negative pledge also permits the security interest granted in respect of the 2011 Notes (see Section 2.1.4 of this Base Prospectus).

Potential consequences to investors in the event the Australian Unity Group underperforms financially include the following:

- Australian Unity may be unable to, or have difficulty in, satisfying its obligations under the Bonds or other indebtedness (including as a consequence of it not being able to generate sufficient revenue, or not having sufficient sources of capital in the future, to satisfy all its debt obligations in addition to its working capital, capital expenditure and other general corporate activity requirements);
- existing covenants relating to Australian Unity's indebtedness may limit its ability to obtain additional financing for working capital, capital expenditures and other general corporate activities;
- Australian Unity may be more vulnerable to the impact of economic downturns and adverse developments in its business; and
- the increased leverage may make Australian Unity less flexible in planning for, or reacting to, changes in its business and industries in which it operates and place Australian Unity at a competitive disadvantage against competitors.

Australian Unity's ability to make scheduled Interest payments on, or to repay its obligations with respect to its indebtedness, including the Bonds, will depend on its financial and operating performance. If Australian Unity is unable to generate sufficient cash flow to satisfy its debt obligations, Australian Unity may have to undertake alternative financing plans, such as refinancing or restructuring of existing debt, selling assets, reducing or delaying capital investments or seeking to raise additional capital. Australian Unity cannot assure investors that any alternative financing plan would be possible or obtained on acceptable terms. Australian Unity's inability to generate sufficient cash flows to satisfy debt obligations, or to refinance indebtedness on commercially reasonable terms, could materially and adversely affect Australian Unity's ability to satisfy its obligations under the Bonds.

Australian Unity is agreeing to certain restrictions on its level of gearing, the granting of security over Relevant Indebtedness (other than the security interest described in Section 2.1.4 above) and the incurrence of Financial Indebtedness by its Subsidiaries (other than certain specified exceptions) (see Section 2.1.4). However, the existence of these restrictions does not detract from or negate the risks described in this Section 4.3.1.

4.3.2 Operational risk

Australian Unity is exposed to operational risks in relation to its business operations. Operational risk represents potential variations in earnings as a result of the ineffectiveness of protections afforded by systems, controls, processes and procedures associated with Australian Unity Group's day to day activities.

Operational risks may also be realised by the failure of strategic and/or business decisions or external events. Operational risks are continuously monitored, assessed and managed via a mature risk management framework. Operational risks may have an adverse impact on the operating and financial performance of Australian Unity and the ability of Australian Unity to pay Interest owed on the Bonds or the Redemption Amount due on the Bonds.

4.3.3 Competition

There is substantial competition for the provision of private health insurance, retirement living and financial services in the markets in which the Australian Unity Group operates. The effect of competitive market conditions may have an adverse impact on the operating and financial performance of Australian Unity and its ability to pay Interest owed on the Bonds or the Redemption Amount due on the Bonds.

4.3.4 Compliance and regulatory environment

A number of Australian Unity's businesses are directly or indirectly reliant upon government funding. There is a risk that budgetary constraints or policy decisions may result in changes to future funding arrangements, including reductions in the level of funding. Private health insurance, retirement living, aged care, homecare and financial service providers are subject to significant government policy, regulation and legislation relating to the accounting and taxation treatment of financial products, solvency standards and business practices. A change to, or failure to comply with, government policy, regulations or legislation may have an adverse impact on Australian Unity's ability to pay Interest owed on the Bonds or the Redemption Amount due on the Bonds.

4.3.5 Retirement Living

Property assets, in particular retirement communities and aged care assets, are by their nature illiquid investments. Therefore, it may not be possible for the Australian Unity Group to dispose of assets in a timely manner. To the extent that the Australian Unity Group invests in properties for which there may only be a limited number of purchasers or buyers, the realisable value of those assets may be less than the full value indicated by the Australian Unity Group's expectations of future cash flows from the relevant properties.

4.3.6 Development

Part of the Australian Unity Group's strategy is to invest in the development of retirement and aged care communities. Property development projects have a number of inherent risks in addition to those associated with the operation of developed properties generally, including increases in development costs, non-performance of contractors or subcontractors, project and construction delays, occupational health and safety issues and any change in the market conditions (including the emergence of competing projects) which may affect the value of the assets.

4.3.7 Retirement communities

The Australian Unity Group will derive development revenue from the sale of retirement village units. The Australian Unity Group's financial performance may be adversely affected if there is any delay or failure in selling down developments, a failure to achieve expected sales prices or re-sales do not occur as expected because there are difficult market conditions when a resident departs. Resident preferences for retirement village assets are subject to change. Although there is currently strong demand for Australian Unity Group's retirement communities, there is no assurance that this preference will be sustained in the future. In addition, over time, the Australian Unity Group may need to redevelop older existing villages as resident preferences change. This could adversely impact future costs and cash flows.

Most incoming residents typically fund their retirement unit or villa through the sale of their family home. A downturn in the residential property market is likely to impact the time on market and the price at which Australian Unity can sell down its developments or for established villages, limit the amount of capital gain in which Australian Unity shares upon unit turnover.

4.3.8 Residential and aged care

Occupancy (that is, the number of occupied beds) is a key driver of financial outcomes in the aged care sector. There is no assurance that occupancy levels at aged care facilities will follow historical occupancy trends at the Australian Unity Group's aged care facilities (they may be higher, remain static or be lower). In addition, the ongoing successful operation of the Australian Unity Group's aged care facilities will depend on access to appropriately qualified aged care and nursing staff.

Although accommodation payments can be made via daily payments, lump sum deposits or supported by the Commonwealth, incoming residents typically fund their accommodation in a facility by selling their family home. A downturn in the residential property market may affect the ability of potential incoming residents to sell their own homes or sell them at prices that allow them to provide upfront deposits known as Refundable Accommodation Deposits ("RADs"). RADs generally become refundable within 14 days of departure (subject to grant of probate of a Resident's will). The value and number of new RADs received may be reduced by this or other factors and the mix between RADs and daily payments known as Daily Accommodation Payments ("DAPs") may change in response to market conditions.

Should Australia's ageing population not grow at forecast rates, this may result in a lower occupancy rate for Australian Unity Group's aged care facilities.

4.3.9 Home Care

Home care financial outcomes rely upon the efficient deployment of appropriately skilled staff to support the care and lifestyle needs of clients in their homes. Client care and support costs are largely funded by government programs, however increasingly, means-tested co-contributions apply. Risks exist in the ability of providers to recruit and retain skilled staff to support the diversity of clients and their needs.

4.3.10 Health Insurance

Private health insurers face ongoing pressures on their margins due to rising medical costs, the rise of chronic diseases and an ageing population.

Further, health insurance premiums are required to be approved by the Minister for Health and Ageing under the Private Health Insurance Act 2007 (Cth) (“the PHI Act”) and in an approved form. Increases in premiums by the industry are typically within the annual rate rise approval cycle. Historically, the Australian Unity Group and other health funds have only raised premiums once a year. There is a risk that the Australian Unity Group’s application for a change in its premium rates may be rejected by the Minister. Such a rejection may have a negative impact on Australian Unity’s operating and financial performance. In addition, there are also government policies that support the retention of younger policyholders, for example, the Medicare Levy Surcharge (“MLS”) and Lifetime Health Cover (“LHC”). Higher income earners are obliged to pay the MLS if they earn over a certain threshold and do not have appropriate private patient hospital cover. The LHC incentivises younger people to take out, and maintain, private patient hospital cover earlier in life.

The Australian Unity Group’s health insurance business is also subject to regulatory restrictions on selecting and pricing risk. However, this is partly mitigated by the Commonwealth Government’s risk equalisation arrangements which apply to the registered health insurance industry in Australia. Under these arrangements all registered health insurers effectively provide risk equalisation support so that the industry as a whole shares the hospital costs of high risk groups irrespective of whether those claims are attributable to a policyholder of a particular fund. These risk equalisation arrangements support the policy of community rating to ensure health insurers do not discriminate between people on the basis of their health. Risk equalisation arrangements have historically resulted in the Australian Unity Group receiving net contributions from the industry because of the older average age profile of its policyholders compared to other health insurers. It is the combination of the individual fund and the total industry claims paid that determines the actual contributions paid or received by each individual fund.

Private health insurers also face risks associated with the design and pricing of products. Premiums for Australian Unity Group’s private health insurance (PHI) products are priced in advance of each 12-month premium period based on Australian Unity Group’s forecasts for the 12-month premium period. These forecasts are typically developed several months before the fixed premium period begins based on historical data and anticipated future trends, and involve a significant degree of judgement.

If Australian Unity misprices the premium for a PHI product by pricing the product too low, the product may be less profitable, unprofitable or loss-making until or unless the mispricing is corrected or the product design or features are changed. Although the PHI Act allows insurers to apply to the Minister for Health for PHI product premium increases at any time, the current practice is for insurers to apply once annually (in November), with the approved premiums then applying for a 12-month period from 1 April the following year. Changes can be made to benefits at any time with appropriate notice to policyholders if the change is detrimental.

If PHI product premiums are too high, this may result in the loss of policyholders. Alternatively, policyholders may stay with Australian Unity but downgrade the level of their PHI cover to lower-margin PHI products. An inadequate increase in PHI premiums in one year may require a higher catch-up increase in PHI premiums in the subsequent year which may result in a loss of policyholders.

4.3.11 Big Sky

As an ADI with a core focus on mortgage lending and deposit raising, the performance of Big Sky is dependent on the state of the Australian economy, consumer and investor confidence and prevailing market conditions.

As a retail lender, Big Sky is exposed to credit risk, primarily in relation to residential home loans. Credit risk is the potential for loss arising from failure of a debtor or counterparty to meet their contractual obligations (including loans).

A significant decline in the Australian housing market or property valuations could adversely affect Big Sky’s home mortgage lending portfolio. If Big Sky’s financial value was seriously affected, that could adversely impact on the value of Australian Unity’s net assets.

4.3.12 Future restructures, acquisitions or divestments

The Australian Unity Group may from time to time restructure, undertake strategic acquisitions of new assets, entities or businesses or sell, all or a part of, their respective assets or businesses. To finance such restructures or acquisitions, the Australian Unity Group may incur additional indebtedness and may seek to raise more capital. In such an event, the Australian Unity Group may face operational and financial risks in relation to a restructure or acquisition.

Whilst the Australian Unity Group does not anticipate that any restructure, acquisition or divestment would have a materially adverse effect on Australian Unity’s debt repayment obligations to Holders, it is unable to provide any guarantee that such corporate events will not adversely affect Australian Unity Group’s operational and financial performance.

4.4 General risks

4.4.1 General economic and financial market conditions

General economic conditions (both domestic and international), long-term inflation rates, exchange rate movements, interest rate movements and movements in the general market for ASX and internationally listed securities, investor perceptions and the Australian Unity Group's financial position and earnings may adversely impact Australian Unity's ability to pay interest and repay the Face Value and may affect the price of the Bonds. As a result of the above mentioned factors, Australian Unity is unable to forecast the market price for the Bonds and they may trade on the ASX at a price that is below Face Value.

4.4.2 Market risks

Market risk is the risk of an adverse event in the financial markets that may result in a loss of earnings for Australian Unity and the Australian Unity Group.

Market risk includes exposures to liquidity or funding risk (that is, being unable to meet financial obligations as they fall due or over-reliance on a funding source whereby market or environmental changes limit access to that funding source and thereby increase overall funding costs or cause difficulty in raising funds).

Market risk also includes interest rate risk (that is, the potential for a change in interest rates to have an adverse impact on the interest related earnings of Australian Unity) and currency risk (that is, risks caused by fluctuations in foreign exchange rates).

4.4.3 Reputational risk

Issues of a varying nature may arise that would give rise to reputational risk and cause harm to the Australian Unity Group's business dealings and prospects. These issues include appropriately dealing with potential conflicts of interest, legal and regulatory requirements, issues of ethics, money laundering laws, trade sanctions legislation, privacy, information security policies, sales and trading practices and conduct by companies in which the Australian Unity Group holds strategic interests. Failure to address these issues appropriately could give rise to additional legal risk, subject Australian Unity and its Subsidiaries to regulatory actions, fines and penalties, or harm the reputation of Australian Unity or the Australian Unity Group among its members, customers and investors in the marketplace.

4.4.4 Litigation

From time to time, the Australian Unity Group may be exposed to the risk of litigation or disputes with various parties, such as contractual counterparties, members and customers. Litigation risks include, but are not limited to, customer/member claims and disputes in relation to material investments, products, memberships or other contracts. As well as the risk of financial damage, such claims also carry a risk of damage to the reputation of Australian Unity and the Australian Unity Group. Although the Australian Unity Group holds professional liability insurance, this insurance may not cover all potential claims or may not be adequate to indemnify the Australian Unity Group for all liability that may be incurred or loss which may be suffered.

Losses, liability or legal expenses as a result of litigation proceedings could have a material adverse effect on the Australian Unity Group's business and financial performance. Whilst the Australian Unity Group may from time to time make certain provisions against the possibility of adverse outcomes, there is no guarantee that the provisioned amounts (if any) will adequately cover any such loss suffered or liability incurred.

4.4.5 Taxation

The Australian Unity Group is subject to taxation legislation in the various jurisdictions in which it has operations and conducts business. Any significant change in taxation law or its interpretation and application by an administrative body could have an adverse effect on the results of its operations. The Australian Unity Group manages taxation risk, in relation to specific transactions, by obtaining opinions from taxation specialists and/or rulings from revenue authorities. The Australian Unity Group employs a proactive approach to managing potential disputes with revenue authorities. Either directly or in conjunction with professional and industry bodies, the Australian Unity Group also engages in consultation with revenue authorities in relation to potential changes in law.

4.4.6 Changes in Australian Accounting Standards

The Australian Unity Group is subject to the usual business risks that there may be changes in Australian Accounting Standards which have an adverse financial impact on Australian Unity or the Australian Unity Group. Holders should be aware that the Gearing Ratio Debt in the calculation of Covenant Gearing Ratio will be determined by reference to figures from the accounts of Australian Unity prepared on the basis of the Australian Accounting Standards in place as at the date of the Base Prospectus (unless Australian Unity notifies Holders and the Trustee that such figures will instead be determined in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards in place at the time of the determination).

4.4.7 Legal investment considerations may restrict certain investments

The investment activities of certain investors are subject to investment laws and regulations, or review or regulation by certain authorities. Each potential investor should consult their legal advisers to determine whether and to what extent (i) the Bonds are legal investments for them; and (ii) other restrictions apply to the purchase or any proposed use as collateral of the Bonds. Financial institutions should consult their legal advisers or the appropriate regulators to determine the appropriate treatment of the Bonds under any applicable risk based capital or similar rules.

4.5 Other risks

The above risks are not exhaustive of the risks faced by potential investors in the Bonds. The risks outlined above and other risks may materially affect the future value and performance of the Bonds. Accordingly, no assurances or guarantees of future performance, profitability, Interest or return of the Face Value are given by Australian Unity in respect of the Bonds. You should consult your financial or professional adviser in light of your own particular investment objectives, financial circumstances and particular needs before deciding whether to apply for the Bonds.

5.1 Summary of information on tax consequences of investing in the Bonds

The following is a summary of the Australian withholding tax treatment under the Income Tax Assessment Acts of 1936 and 1997 of Australia (together, "Australian Tax Act") and the Tax Administration Act 1953 of Australia ("TAA"), of payments of interest (as defined under Australian Tax Act) by the Issuer on the Bonds and certain other Australian tax matters.

This summary applies to Holders that are residents of Australia and certain entities that are not residents of Australia. This summary is not exhaustive and you should seek advice from your tax adviser or other professional adviser before deciding to invest in Bonds. In particular, the advice does not deal with Holders who acquire or hold their Bonds outside their country of tax residence (for example through a permanent establishment) or Holders who hold the Bonds on behalf of other persons. In addition, this summary does not deal with the position of certain classes of Holders including, without limitation, dealers in securities, custodians or Holders who otherwise hold Bonds as assets used in carrying on a business of share trading, banking or investment.

This summary is not intended to be, nor should it be construed as being, investment, legal or tax advice to any particular Holder.

This summary is based on Australian tax laws and regulations, interpretations of such laws and regulations, and administrative practice as at the date of this Base Prospectus. Prospective Holders of the Bonds should also be aware that particular terms of issue of any Series of Bonds may affect the tax treatment of that Series of Bonds. Information regarding taxes in respect of the Bonds may also be set out in an Offer Specific Prospectus. More information on the tax implications associated with investing in bonds can be found on the Australian Taxation Office's website www.ato.gov.au.

5.1.1 Interest

The Australian Tax Act characterises securities as either "debt interests" (for all entities) or "equity interests" (for companies), including for the purposes of interest withholding tax ("IWT") imposed under Division 11A of Part III of the Australian Tax Act. For Australian IWT purposes, "interest" is defined to include amounts in the nature of, or in substitution for, interest and certain other amounts. The Issuer intends that the Bonds will be characterised as "debt interests" for the purposes of the tests contained in Division 974 and that the returns paid on the Bonds be "interest" for the purpose of section 128F of the Australian Tax Act.

a. Resident Holders

Australian residents are generally required to include any Interest in their assessable income each year. Whether these amounts should be recognised as assessable income on a cash receipts or accruals basis (including whether they are subject to Division 230 – see the summary below) will depend on the individual circumstances of the Holder. Australian residents holding their Bonds and receiving payments of Interest in Australia should not be subject to IWT.

b. Non-resident Holders

Non-resident Holders will generally be subject to IWT at the rate of 10 percent on any Interest they receive. IWT is a final tax and non-resident Holders should not be subject to any other Australian tax such as income tax.

Australian Unity intends to issue the Bonds in a manner which will satisfy the requirements of section 128F of the Australian Tax Act. If Australian Unity satisfies the requirements of section 128F, then payments of Interest to non-resident Holders (that are not "Offshore Associates" of Australian Unity) should not be subject to IWT and should not be subject to any other tax such as income tax in Australia.

5.1.2 Disposal of the Bonds

a. Australian resident Holders

The Australian Unity Bonds are intended to be “traditional securities” for the purposes of the Australian Tax Act. In relation to a traditional security, Australian resident Holders that are not subject to Division 230 are generally required to include any gain from a disposal in their assessable income in the income tax year in which a disposal occurs. Such a gain will be equal to the difference between the consideration for the disposal and acquisition of the traditional security (plus any relevant costs associated with the acquisition or disposal). Losses may be included as an allowable deduction in respect of taxable income in the income tax year in which the disposal occurs.

If a capital gains tax event should also occur on the disposal of a traditional security, any such capital gain or capital loss will be disregarded to the extent to which that gain or loss is included either as assessable income or an allowable deduction.

b. Non-Australian resident Holders

Non-resident Holders may be subject to Australian income tax on any gain realised on the disposal of their Bonds (depending upon whether or not that gain has an Australian source). However, a non-resident Holder may be eligible for relief from Australian income tax if that Holder is entitled to the benefit of a double tax agreement between Australia and the non-resident Holder’s country of residence (for tax purposes).

5.1.3 Application of Division 230

Division 230 of the Australian Tax Act contains tax-timing rules for certain taxpayers for bringing to account gains and losses from certain “financial arrangements”. However, Division 230 does not apply in relation to traditional securities to certain taxpayers, including individuals and certain other entities (e.g. certain superannuation entities and managed investment schemes) which satisfy various turnover or asset threshold tests, unless they make an election that Division 230 applies to all of their “financial arrangements”.

If payments of Interest are exempt from IWT under section 128F of the Tax Act 1936, Division 230 will not operate to override this exemption.

5.1.4 Payment of Additional Amounts

As set out in more detail in the Base Terms for the Bonds, and unless expressly provided to the contrary in the relevant Offer Specific Terms, if the Issuer is at any time required by law to withhold or deduct an amount in respect of Taxes imposed in Australia in respect of the Bonds, the Issuer must, subject to certain exceptions, pay Additional Amounts so that after making the deduction and further deductions applicable, the Holder is entitled to receive (at the time the payment is due) the amount it would have received if no withholdings or deductions had been required to be made. If the Issuer is compelled by law in relation to any Bonds to withhold or deduct an amount in respect of which Additional Amounts must be paid, the Issuer will have the option to redeem the Bonds in accordance with the Base Terms.

5.1.5 Death duties

No Bonds will be subject to death, estate or succession duties imposed by Australia, or by any political subdivision or authority therein having power to tax, if held at the time of death.

5.1.6 Additional withholdings from certain payments to non-residents

The Governor-General may make regulations requiring withholding from certain payments to non-residents of Australia (other than payments of interest and other amounts which are already subject to the current IWT rules or specifically exempt from those rules). Regulations may only be made if the responsible Minister is satisfied the specified payments are of a kind that could reasonably relate to assessable income of foreign residents. The possible application of any future regulations to the proceeds of any sale of the Bonds will need to be monitored.

5.1.7 Supply withholding tax

Payments in respect of the Bonds can be made free and clear of any “supply withholding tax”.

5.1.8 Provision of TFN and/or ABN

The TAA can impose withholding tax (currently at the rate of 49 percent) on the payment of interest on certain types of registered securities, such as the Bonds.

However, where a Holder has provided Australian Unity with their TFN or, in certain circumstances, their ABN, or has notified Australian Unity that they are exempt from providing this information, Australian Unity is not required to withhold any amount on account of tax from payments of interest to the Holder.

A Holder may choose not to provide his or her TFN or ABN to Australian Unity.

If payments of interest are exempt from IWT under section 128F of the Australian Tax Act or otherwise subject to IWT, then non-resident Holders should not be subject to any withholding tax under these rules.

5.1.9 Garnishee directions

The Australian Commissioner of Taxation may give a direction requiring the Issuer to deduct from any payment to a Holder of the Bonds any amount in respect of Australian tax payable by a Holder. If the Issuer is served with such a direction, then the Issuer will comply with that direction and make any deduction required by that direction.

5.1.10 GST

GST is not payable on the issue, receipt, disposal or redemption of the Bonds.

GST is not payable in relation to the payment of Face Value or Interest by Australian Unity.

5.1.11 Stamp duty

No stamp duty should be payable on the issue, receipt, disposal or redemption of the Bonds.

5.1.12 FATCA

The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act provisions of the U.S. Hiring Incentives to Restore Employment Act of 2010 ("FATCA") establish a new due diligence, reporting and withholding regime. FATCA aims to detect U.S. taxpayers who use accounts with "foreign financial institutions" ("FFIs") to conceal income and assets from the U.S. Internal Revenue Service ("IRS").

Under FATCA, a 30 percent withholding may be imposed (i) in respect of certain U.S. source payments, (ii) from 1 January 2017 in respect of gross proceeds from the sale of assets that give rise to U.S. source interest or dividends and (iii) from 1 January 2017, at the earliest, in respect of "foreign passthru payments" (a term which is not yet defined under FATCA), which are, in each case, paid to or in respect of entities that fail to meet certain certification or reporting requirements ("FATCA withholding").

Financial institutions through which payments on the Bonds are made may be required to withhold on account of FATCA. A withholding may be required if (i) an investor does not provide information sufficient for the Issuer or the relevant financial institution to determine whether the investor is subject to FATCA withholding or (ii) an FFI to or through which payments on the Bonds are made is a "non-participating FFI".

FATCA withholding is not expected to apply if the Bonds are treated as debt for U.S. federal income tax purposes and the grandfathering provisions from withholding under FATCA are applicable. The grandfathering provisions require, amongst other things, that the Bonds are issued on or before the date that is six months after the date on which final regulations defining the term "foreign passthru payment" are filed with the U.S. Federal Register.

Further, Australia and the United States signed an intergovernmental agreement ("Australian IGA") in respect of FATCA on 28 April 2014. The Australian Government has enacted legislation amending, among other things, the TAA to give effect to the Australian IGA ("Australian Amendments"). Under the Australian Amendments, Australian FFIs will generally be able to be treated as "deemed compliant" with FATCA. Depending on the nature of the relevant FFI, FATCA withholding may not be required from payments made with respect to the Bonds other than in certain prescribed circumstances. Under the Australian Amendments, an FFI may be required to provide the Australian Taxation Office with information on financial accounts (for example, the Bonds) held by U.S. persons and recalcitrant account holders and on payments made to non-participating FFIs. The Australian Taxation Office is required to provide that information to the IRS.

In the event that any amount is required to be withheld or deducted from a payment on the Bonds as a result of FATCA, pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Bonds, no additional amounts will be paid by the Issuer as a result of the deduction or withholding.

FATCA is particularly complex legislation. The above description is based in part on U.S. Treasury regulations published on 28 January 2013 and 6 March 2014, official guidance and the Australian Amendments, all of which are subject to change.

Investors should consult their own tax advisers to determine how these rules may apply to them under the Bonds.
